

THE PRESTRESSED GROUP

Environmental Policy

The Prestressed Group's Leadership and Team Members are totally committed to protecting the environment and continually striving to improve its products, services and processes to minimize waste and improve recycling activities. The Company will minimize the health and safety risks to all people and communities in which we operate through effective engineering controls, management controls, training, and awareness programs.

To conserve the environment we shall:

- Continuously improve our environmental performance by encouragement of technical innovations and recycling initiatives;
- Limit pollution to the environment from our operations and products;
- Comply with relevant environmental legislation, regulations and other requirements;
- Set, implement and maintain environmental objectives and targets through a Leadership Review that meets or exceeds all legal requirements; and
- Ensure that Team Members know, understand and adhere to policies, procedures and work instructions related to the environment, hazardous materials, recycling, and worker health & safety.

Every Team Member has a responsibility in the Company's environmental initiatives. Such responsibility includes the strict adherence to regulatory requirements and Company policies, procedures, and standards. It also includes the responsibility to actively participate in environmental initiatives to improve performance and minimize environmental risk.

The Prestressed Group requires the reporting of any activity inconsistent with this Environmental Policy to Senior Management.
